DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 22-42 are presented for examination.

Double Patenting

2. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

3. Claims 22-23, 25-29, 31-33, 35-38 and 40-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-16 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,647,507 B1. This is a double patenting rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 24, 30, 34 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dow (US Patent no 6,647,507 B1).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention “by another,” or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

6. Claims 24, 30, 34 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dow (US Patent no 6,647,507 B1).

7. As per claims 24 and 42, Dow discloses that the zero clock bias represents a delay, immediately following a predefined transition of the distributed clock signal, that is one of approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ cycle and approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ cycle of the distributed clock signal [col. 3, line 52 - col. 5, line 52; the clock biasing is detailed; Fig. 8 and 9; data launching at clock crossing; col. 8, lines 8-10].

8. As per claim 30, Dow discloses that the transmission line includes one or more parallel traces formed in a printed wiring board on which the first and second IC dies are installed [Fig. 2; Fig. 10B; col. 9, lines 25-30].

9. As per claim 34, Dow discloses that the receive delay is one of approximately zero cycle and approximately $\frac{1}{2}$ cycle of the distributed clock signal, and the transmit delay is one of approximately $\frac{1}{4}$ cycle and approximately $\frac{3}{4}$ cycle of the distributed clock signal [col. 3, line 52 - col. 5, line 52; the clock biasing is detailed; Fig. 8 and 9; data launching at clock crossing; col. 8, lines 8-10].
